shopping

Adams Morgan – Traverse the streets of Adams Morgan and witness the microcosm of a truly international society. Lunch at Chinese, French or New Orleans Creole restaurants. Shop at a boutique featuring African clothing. Attend a gallery opening, specializing in Peruvian art.

Corcoran Gallery of Art – Washington's oldest art museum, visitors can tour many new and ongoing exhibits including 16,000 works of art permanently on display. The gallery also frequently hosts prominent and emerging artists.

Dupont Circle Galleries – Comprised of 21 member galleries, this trendy and affluent neighborhood is home to the Phillips Collection and Textile Museum. Appreciate abstract art in a neighborhood gallery. Then grab lunch with friends in one of the nearby restaurants to discuss your impressions.

Georgetown Neighborhood – Tree-lined streets, brick sidewalks and stately townhouses make Georgetown one of DC's most desirable communities. Long for the latest styles? You'll find them here amid the area's vibrant retail center. Acquire a beautiful antique sideboard in one of the neighborhood's shops. Treat yourself to a handcrafted necklace. Lunch at a welcoming outdoor cafe.

Named for one of the original architects of the U.S. Capitol, this magnificent salon with floor to ceiling windows provides an upscale view of the Japanese-American Memorial and beyond. Located on the 11th floor, the rich decor of warm colors and luxurious finishes sets the tone for an elegant gathering. The Thornton Room has been carefully planned to allow for maximum flexibility by utilizing wood and etched glass panels to divide the space into a series of three smaller rooms. Featuring a pre-set lounge area, choose this unique setting to add a refined touch to a theater-style presentation for 40 or an intimate reception for up to 200 guests.

This lovely open space easily allows seating for all your guests, along with a dance floor and more. No wedding list is too large for this room, which can host over 800 for a sit-down dinner if needed. Invite your guests to mingle while they enjoy cocktails and hors d'oeuvres in the adjoining Regency Foyer.

capitol room

This upscale location features custom made chandeliers and dark wood paneling which lends a warm, welcoming feel. Ideal for an intimate dinner for 200 dinner guests or as an elegant reception location for 400.
