rich IN HISTORY

WELCOME TO MUSTARD SEED GARDENS

An enchanting, one-of-a-kind setting for hosting your dream wedding. Located in charming Noblesville, Indiana, historic Mustard Seed Gardens sits on three acres of rolling hillside and offers endless charm.

Settled on the historic Metsker Plantation, the property was originally deeded to the Metsker family from the seventh President of the United States, Andrew Jackson, in 1860. The beautifully manicured grounds and the 1892 post-and-beam 'Olde Barn' have been restored, yet the historical integrity and original charm remain.

A venue rich in history, featuring lush gardens, open fields and rustic chic decor, Mustard Seed Gardens is a truly magical setting for your special day.
