WINTER WONDERLAND HOLIDAY PARTY

Embrace the season with a Winter Wonderland theme. Let us decorate your party space to look like a wintery palace, with white draping, fairy lights, ice sculptures, glittering snowflakes, and a Christmas tree.

For drinks, we can serve an icy vodka cocktail and some delicious, warming mulled wine. Food should be warm and funky - crudites, savory bites, coconut balls, baked Alaska and panna cotta.

Another great idea is to add some casino tables, like roulette, poker, craps, and blackjack. Pit different departments against each other and offer drink tokens and other fun prizes.

NIGHTMARE BEFORE CHRISTMAS THEMED PARTY

Give your Christmas party a Tim Burton flair and make use of all those leftover decorations from Halloween. We can dress up the room with black and white tinsel, skulls and skeletons in santa hats, and decorate balloons to look like the iconic Jack Skellington.

We would fill the playlist with songs from Tim Burton's films, along with Halloween classics like 'The Monster Mash' and 'Superstitious' (a great way to banish the cheesy Christmas carols for the evening!) Food should be of the authentic English variety: roast meats, mini-Yorkshire puds, bangers and mash, custard ... all the classic comfort foods. A new vibe on Christmas that we can create for your employees and staff!

THE CHOCOLATE FACTORY/ CANDYLAND

If you'd like to incorporate whimsical fantasies into your company's holiday party, try hosting a Willy Wonka-themed holiday soiree. Whether you call it "Candyland" or "The Chocolate Factory," the chosen venue should be big, unique and bold enough to encompass oversized, quirky designs and an even bigger imagination.

We will incorporate as much candy into the décor as possible. Centerpieces can feature tall glass vases filled with different levels of sweets. Serving tables and platters will have candy scattered throughout. Christmas trees can be decorated with candy bars and other chocolates and candies, and we would encourage guests to eat any of the edible décor.

CHRISTMAS MASQUERADE BALL

If your office is on the casual side, why not encourage everyone to come dressed to the nines for a masquerade ball? In the invite you could perhaps explain the history of masquerade balls and link to some tutorials on mask-making to get everyone thinking of ideas for their own.

For decorations, think harlequin patterns, theatre masks and anything decadent. We would serve finger foods and funky cocktails, and keep the music pumping all night with a local band.

For those who haven't come with a mask, or who want to give theirs a little extra pizzazz, we will supply several for them to choose from. We would include a photo booth area with a curtain backdrop and a box of props; mustaches, fairy wands, santa hats, feather boas and funny signs.
