Rooms and Suites

One of the smallest Leading Hotels of the World, Wheatleigh offers a modern décor that fits seamlessly with the splendor of the Gilded Age mansion. The nineteen suites and guest rooms set a standard of style and sophistication. The understated but artfully designed rooms are each unique both in style and character and feature high ceilings, antique and architect-designed furniture, Matouk linens, and museum quality art.

When reserving the Palazzo, you will have exclusive use of the entire estate including all 19 guestrooms and suites for overnight accommodations. When combined with a Food & Beverage minimum you eliminate all site fees and room rental charges. You may also choose to have your guests pay a nightly room rate, which would be credited toward your final bill and directly offsetting your costs. A Palazzo booking is generally necessary for any event with tenting, music, or dancing.

Wheatleigh

The Aviary. (1) A former Aviary transformed into a two-story suite with a private covered terrace. The downstairs living room features windows on all sides and a BeoVision 9-50 Entertainment System. A sculptural glass enclosed circular stair leads to a second floor sleeping room floating in the trees. A unique bathroom with limestone and glass wet room combines a soaking tub and shower area.

The Terrace Suite. (1) A ground floor suite with mountain vista. The sitting area is enclosed in bronze, glass, and brick and opens to a 40 foot covered private portico. The spacious bedroom features a king size bed, a BeoVision 7-40 Entertainment System, and a bathroom with an imported antique soaking tub and large shower.

Junior Suites with Balcony. (4) Grand rooms with high ceilings, beautiful views, and wonderful architectural details. All have comfortable sitting areas, king size beds, ornamental fireplaces, BeoVision 7-40 Entertainment Systems, and large bathrooms with antique soaking tubs and separate showers. These Junior Suites also guarantee a private balcony or terrace to take in the fresh country air.
