The Venue

A truly unique venue in the city of New Orleans, Ogden Museum of Southern Art is located in the heart of the Warehouse Arts District, less than a mile away from the French Quarter and walking distance from the Ernest N. Morial Convention Center. The Patrick F. Taylor Library consists of a rotunda adorned with hand-carved "Hounds of Knowledge" and a wide-open area featuring vaulted ceilings. The Library is one of the most beloved and versatile venues in New Orleans. Devoted to the arts, culture and history of the American South, the Museum is the perfect setting for your event.
