The Secret Garden Inn

The Secret Garden Inn is located in the heart of downtown Kingston at 73 Sydenham Street, this historical designated building was constructed in 1888 by Scottish fur and leather merchant John McKay and named Argyle Place. In 1996, the building was transformed into an inn and has since been a place for people to gather and create lasting memories. It has original stained-glass windows, unique arches and architectural details, and an iconic award-winning garden. In March of 2020, the inn was lovingly renovated and updated to reflect the care that we put into every interaction with our guests. The effort and care that we put into every guest experience is reflected through the Traveller Review Award 2021 that was earned by maintaining exceptional guest reviews last year. We are overjoyed to be celebrating the 25th year of being open to the public as an operational bed and breakfast and are excited to bring that experience to your event.

95 King Street

95 King Street is a Victorian building with a similar beauty to The Secret Garden Inn with stained glass windows and architectural details that are unique to this property. Its first owner, James A. Hendry, was a wholesale grocer who operated a market onsite. Its asymmetrical design, varying roof heights and terra cotta panels are as spectacular as the view of Lake Ontario and City park that the house looks over on either side. This property is new to us but has been a landmark in the City of Kingston since it was built in 1886. We are overjoyed to make this beautiful space available as a venue option for your wedding.

Food and Beverage

At The Secret Garden Inn, we take our epicurean endeavours very seriously and reflect that through our dining experiences. Our inhouse chef will design a customized menu, using fresh local ingredients whenever possible, that will dazzle your guests and appeal to all of your senses. They will taste amazing, fill the house with delicious scents and are stunning to look at. Below are some sample options for appetizers, starters, mains and deserts, each fully customizable. We believe your wedding should be about you and what matters to you, so if you have something specific in mind for your special day, we can accommodate requests. Coffee and tea service is available, as well as any lunch options that you should need. For guests that will need accommodations, their stay includes breakfast the next morning. Our Chef has designed a unique breakfast menu to satisfy any and every dietary plan to start your day off in the best way possible.

We know that a good celebration requires a great toast, and great toasts start with a fantastic beverage. At The Secret Garden Inn we believe that a special day requires a special wine. We procure unique brands and flavours that will excite your guests with a new experience. Our wine list is available upon request, as is cocktail service.
