A message from In Motion Video founder, Gene DiPaula

Thank you for your interest in In Motion Video's services for your wedding. I know that you are putting a lot of time and effort into planning your perfect wedding day. From flowers to photography and videography to your wedding cake, there is so much to do.

How do you make sure that it all comes together when the day finally arrives? Surprisingly, the answer is quite easy; Hire professionals with excellent reputations. Friends and family are reliable sources of information. Go to wedding shows. Meet the person who will actually film your wedding. That way, there won't be any surprises.

Rest assured that when you choose In Motion Video, you are choosing film and video professionals with the experience to provide a worry-free day for you. Ask around; We have the reputation you are looking for in wedding videographers, an unblemished record of satisfied brides. We do so by providing personal service, having a professional attitude and appearance, using an unintrusive style of filming, as well as offering the best quality product available at an affordable price.

We never forget that we are a guest who has been honored by being invited to your wedding. And just like your friends and family, we want the day to be unforgettable. So, we provide a wedding video that wows from the first time you see it to the first time your grandchildren see it.

I invite you to make an appointment so that you can meet our team and the video professionals who will be filming your wedding day. We look forward to speaking with you to discuss the details of your wedding plans and learning how we can make your special day even more special.

Professionalism

At In Motion Video, we pride ourselves on our professional attitude AND appearance. What does this mean?

A professional attitude means listening to and answering all of your questions. After all, this is the first and only time you will get married. We want to make sure you know exactly what to expect from us on your wedding day.

It means showing up on time and being dressed appropriately. We are guests at your wedding and so we want to blend right in. Most people don't even know we're there.

It means treating you with kindness and respect on the most important day of your life. We have a positive, can-do attitude. If you have a need, our answer is "yes".

"In thinking over our wedding day, you were the vendor who we were most impressed with as far as how professional you were. We hoped we were as pleased with the videos. You totally exceeded our expectations!"
- Emily and Nathan Moore

You'll love working with us. Hundreds of brides can attest to it. Please ask us for references.

Experience

You deserve the best on your wedding day. The film and video professionals at In Motion Video are not hobbyists like a lot of wedding videography companies. We're not a photography company that tacks on video as an afterthought to make additional money.

All we've been doing for the last decade is producing professional film and video projects. We work on commercial, corporate, multimedia, news and event projects, so we know how to produce the best video and audio quality using today's high-definition technology so your wedding will always look its best in the memory of friends and family.

Your wedding will be different from every other wedding so it helps to have professionals with the experience to quickly know how to get the best shots - those moments of laughter, tears, and celebration that make your wedding day unique.

"Last night we watched Kacy's wedding video. Even though my daughter's wedding was October 3rd, last night my husband and I felt like we attended it for the first time. Let me tell you, we had a wonderful time. See, the night went by so fast that we didn't really remember very much, so watching it all again was wonderful.

Thank you so much."

- Zena Rollins

It also helps to know that In Motion Video has twice been voted "One of Baltimore's Best Videographers" by the Knot Magazine and a "Bride's Choice" by WeddingWire.com, awards given based on the survey responses of brides who have used our services.

Best Quality, Best Price

Enjoy a wide range of services and options to meet your wedding videography needs. We deliver exactly what you want. We offer a number of pre-planned packages, or you can customize a package that meets your specific needs and wedding day plans.

If you would like a pre-planned package, please look over the options on the next page. If you would like a customized quote, call us or visit us online.

Our pre-planned packages include either 7 or 9 hours of coverage, 1 or 2 videographers, and the option of receiving an edited highlights reel or simply the "raw" footage. All of our packages include 2 high-definition (HD) camera coverage of your ceremony, allowing us to create a seamless film of the most important part of your day. All of your DVDs will come in personalized packaging with custom navigational menus.

"When we met you at the wedding show, it was truly a blessing. At that point we were so overwhelmed. When planning the wedding everything seemed so expensive. It was nice to think that a service we paid for was worth it and better than we expected."

-Christina and Joshua Straub

A precious keepsake that fits any budget. It's time to celebrate!
